Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Total number of students enrolled in 2013-14:	436
Unduplicated number of males enrolled in 2013-14:	109
Unduplicated number of females enrolled in 2013-14:	327

Section I.d Supervised Clinical Experience

Provide the following information about supervised clinical experience in 2013-14.

Average number of clock hours of supervised clinical experience required prior to student teaching	116.3
Average number of clock hours required for student teaching	455
Average number of clock hours required for mentoring/induction support	0
Number of full-time equivalent faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year	5
Number of adjunct faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE and PreK-12 staff)	54
Number of students in supervised clinical experience during this academic year	500

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

Clinic experiences – working in classrooms and schools with children and in collaboration with skilled certified teachers – is a central activity in the teacher education program. Over the course of the program, students complete the equivalent of six semesters, an average of 1200 hours, of clinic-based experiences for the IBM program and four semesters for the post-graduate TCPCG program. In the first year of study, IBM students complete 162 hours in the field prior to student teaching. In the first two semesters of study (Summer Session I and Summer Session II), TCPCG students complete 20 hours in the field prior to student teaching.

university course work students are taking concurrently with their clinic placement. Each semester students are also enrolled in a small seminar with other students who are at the same phase in the program and who are working in the same school district during their clinic placements. In these seminars, students are expected to talk and write about what they are doing in and learning from their clinic placements, how their learning in clinic is related to their learning in their university courses, and how their understandings of students, teachers, schools, and teaching is changing as a function of their varied learning experiences. The goal of the Clinic/Seminar/Core structure that runs throughout the program is to provide the students with the information, the experience, and the opportunity needed to engage in substantive analysis of and reflection upon the enormous and complex task of educating the youth of this country.

Section II Assurances

Please certify that your institution is in compliance with the following assurances. (§205(a)(1)(A)(iii), §206(b)) Note: Be prepared to provide documentation and evidence for your responses, when requested, to support the following assurances.

and recruitment trends.

Yes

Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

Yes

Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

Yes

Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

Yes

Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

Yes

Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

Based on evidence-based research, we have found that we needed to address classroom management and working with ELL students. For the former, we have developed and implementing a required course on classroom management incorporating Response to Intervention (RTI). For the latter, methods faculty are modifying curriculum to incorporate strategies working with ELL students.

Section IV Low-Performing

Provide the following information about the approval or accreditation of your teacher preparation program.

Is your teacher preparation program currently approved or accredited?

Yes

If yes, please specify the organization(s) that approved or accredited your program:

State
NCATE

Is your teacher preparation program currently under a designation as "low-performing" by the state (as per section 207(a) of the HEA of 2008)?

No

Section V Use of Technology

Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

The Neag School of Education recognizes the critical role that technology plays in the development of human knowledge and advancement; it is committed to provide up-to-date technology to its candidates.

Candidates are expected to apply appropriate technology in their teaching, learning, and professional activities. At the initiation of their respective teacher preparation program, candidates are required to arrive with specific multimedia applications available to them (e.g., laptop with MS Office, Taskstream). With program faculty facilitating candidate skill development and understanding, these technologies are utilized across the teacher preparation sequence in activities such as project web design, electronic portfolio, and clinical experiences (which include student teaching) while incorporating the principles of universal design.

Section VI Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

All candidates take a course designed to embrace instruction for students with exceptionalities (which includes individualized education teams and plans). Additionally, at least one of the five clinical experiences is in a special education setting and instruction in the methods classes deal with differentiation of instruction for all learners (encompassing special education, gifted and talented, and limited English proficient). In addition, the candidates are required to take a course on teaching English language learners. The faculty initiated a professional network to enhance their own knowledge and research on working with students with limited English proficiencies. As a result of this, faculty has integrated the teaching of SIOP strategies into methods courses and included a focus on language objectives in candidates' lesson planning.

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

In addition to all requirements listed above, all candidates in special education are instructed to meet national and state standards, receive training on becoming an active collaborative member of the individualized education program team, develop/ implement/ monitor individualize education plans, and assess in 18 research-based teaching practices which candidates need to demonstrate during their student teaching experience.

Section VII Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Program Tenets Our teacher education programs are built upon a foundation of program tenets that reflect state-of-the-art practice in teacher education. Tenet 1: A broad liberal arts background with a specific subject area major is part of each pre-professional student's university program. Tenet 2: A common core of pedagogical knowledge is required of all education majors, regardless of their area of specialization. Tenet 3: Subject and grade-level specific pedagogical knowledge is tailored to the certification area toward which students are working. Tenet 4: Teaching competence is built across six semesters of progressively challenging clinical experiences. Tenet 5: Every student participates in at least one clinic placement in an urban setting, one clinic placement in a special education setting, and one K-12 clinic experience. Tenet 6: Analysis of and reflection on the interplay between student characteristics, teacher practices, and the broader issues and concerns of parents and society are essential in preparing educators to be decision makers, leaders, and innovators for the twenty-first century. The Title II reporting time period (September 1 to August 31) is not aligned with our university's academic calendars. For example, our 11-month post-master's Teacher Certification Program for College Graduates (TCPCG) runs June to May. This difference led to a misinterpretation of the rules for the last Title II report, which resulted in the undercounting of the TCPCG enrollment. We have clarified our methodology and have included the roughly 80 TCPCG students in our enrollment count. In addition, the academic year for our Integrated Bachelors/Masters (IB/M) program begins in August. We now include the newest cohort of approximately 120 IB/M students in our enrollment count. The addition of these two groups accounts for the increase in our enrollment data.
